

Brief history and outline

In 1994 Netherlands-Thai Chamber of Commerce (NTCC) The Hague evolved from the earlier Wilanda Foundation, first located in Haarlem. NTCC The Hague wants to offer a point of focus where all parties related to business between the Netherlands and Thailand meet. We maintain strong ties with both the Royal Thai Embassy in The Hague and the Royal Netherlands Embassy in Bangkok, as well as with various Government Agencies in The Netherlands such as the EVD and in Thailand such as the Board of Investment (BOI) and the Dept of Export Promotion (DEP) Our membership represents different sectors and entails multinationals as well as SME's and representatives from the government from both the Netherlands and Thailand.

The Board of NTCC consists of executives with extensive hands-on experience in Thailand. NTCC The Hague has contracted NCH (Nederlands Centrum Handelsbevordering) to attend to all back-office activities.

Thai counterpart

Through our close co-operation with the NTCC Thailand in Bangkok we offer a true platform and channel of information for entrepreneurs from the Netherlands in dealing with Thailand. NTCC Bangkok was established in 1992 and participates in the Joint Foreign Chambers of Commerce (JFCCT) and has close ties with the Business Information Centre (Delegation of the EC to Thailand). The Chamber has over the years grown into a strong membership organization with extensive contacts in many sectors of the Thai business community. NTCC Thailand organizes a number of regular and prestigious events, like the annual Business Award Dinner. Their bi-annual Handbook and Directory with concise information on doing business in Thailand is also available to the NTCC members in The Netherlands.
